Main responsibilities:

OFFICE OF ACADEMIC AND FACULTY AFFAIRS

Responsible for advancing the strategic goals of cultivating faculty scholarship and building a community of academic excellence and collaboration. Chief among the position's priorities are: faculty recruitment and retention strategies, including a focus on increasing faculty diversity; support for tenure and promotion, including a mentoring program; strategic planning in areas such as curriculum, intra- and inter-divisional collaboration opportunities, and academic resources and technology; and integration efforts across the University.

LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES PROGRAM

TEACHING:

- co-taught an applied research course in Latin American Studies (2012–2015)

PROJECTS AND PUBLICATIONS:

- managed grant-related and other projects within the program, including study groups, study trips (e.g. the last five LASP study trips to China), seminars, and publications
- coedited books with the program director and contributed chapters in said books, in addition to overseeing the publishing process and copyediting the books in both English and Spanish
- negotiated and secured publishing contracts in the U.S. and abroad
- organized book presentations and related seminars in the U.S. and abroad

FUNDRAISING AND BUDGET MANAGEMENT:

- oversaw fundraising initiatives and budget management at the program level
- worked with the program director and the SAIS Development Office on grant writing, budget planning, outreach to current and potential donors, management of grant and other program budgets, and preparation of narrative and financial reports for all grant awards (private foundation grants awarded to LASP since 1994 arrival at SAIS total approximately $3 million, excluding Hildreth gift to establish Riordan Roett Chair in Latin American Studies)

FACULTY RECRUITMENT & STAFF HIRING:

- assisted with identifying and interviewing potential adjunct lecturers from the World Bank and other organizations
- interviewed and selected candidates for program staff positions

ADVISING AND PROGRAM/SCHOOL ACTIVITIES:

- provided academic and professional advice to current MA/PhD candidates and prospective students
- managed various non-grant-related program activities, including seminars and workshops (such as the 2006 book launch of President Fernando Henrique Cardoso's memoirs)
- assisted with the management of LASP communications with students, faculty, SAIS deans and administrators, as well as external contacts
- assisted with the management of LASP contact with Bologna students, faculty, and administrators via regular Bologna campus visits, email, and videoconferencing
- provided support for various school activities and initiatives (for example, led an internal review of the SAIS Office of Career Services; served as the coordinator for the 2006 Bologna Center Director search committee chaired by Riordan Roett; and served as a rapporteur for a program review by the SAIS/LASP Advisory Board during Dean Wolfowitz's tenure)

PROGRAM NETWORKING AND TRAVEL:

- traveled in the U.S. and abroad for networking and other program-related activities, including leading the 2009 LASP China Study Trip (ten-student delegation)
- initiated and cultivated business relationships with academic, public and private sector, media, and other contacts in the U.S. and abroad

FACULTY CONTACT & SUPERVISORY ROLE:

- acted as the main program contact for adjunct lecturers with regard to teaching responsibilities and general program information
- supervised program staff

Honors received at Johns Hopkins–SAIS:

Senior Staff Employee of the Year Award (2004)
