

Netiquette Guidelines

- Respectful
 - Respect privacy: Don't share personal information (what happens in Bb stays in Bb)
 - Diverse: Use inclusive language and avoid offensive language
 - Open: Be open to different points of view
 - Disagree: It's okay to disagree, do so respectfully
- Professional
 - Good impression: check your spelling and grammar, use names, say please and thank you
 - Truth: if you are not sure of your answer make that clear
 - Kind: If you notice a mistake, point it out politely.
 - Brief: Clearly articulate your point without being wordy
 - On topic: Post comments that add to the conversation
 - Tone. Avoid sarcasm and ALL CAPS
- Scholarly
 - Share your expertise
 - Cite and link to sources
 - Explanatory. Support your opinion

References

- Berk R. Top 12 Be-Attitudes of Netiquette for Academicians. http://www.ronberk.com/articles/2011_attitudes.pdf. Accessed February 5, 2020
- Cole J. Are You Teaching Good Netiquette? <https://teachonline.asu.edu/2016/04/teaching-good-netiquette/>. Accessed February 5, 2020
- Connor P. Netiquette: Ground rules for online discussions. <https://tilt.colostate.edu/TipsAndGuides/Tip/128>. Accessed February 5, 2020
- Pappas C. Netiquette tips for online discussions. <http://elearningindustry.com/10-netiquette-tips-online-discussions>. Accessed February 5, 2020
- Shea V. The Core Rules of Netiquette. Online ed. Albion Books; 1994. <http://www.albion.com/netiquette/corerules.html>. Accessed February 5, 2020
- Touro College. 15 rules of netiquette for online discussion boards [INFOGRAPHIC]. <http://blogs.onlineeducation.touro.edu/15-rules-netiquette-online-discussion-boards Updated 2014>. Accessed February 5, 2020