

Master of International Economics and Finance

JOHNS HOPKINS

SCHOOL of ADVANCED
INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

Tackle pressing international economic issues with an advanced degree grounded in theory, reasoning, and practice.

JOHNS HOPKINS

SCHOOL of ADVANCED
INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

The SAIS Advantage

The Johns Hopkins University Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS) will prepare you to lead and succeed in the public, private, and nonprofit sectors.

Since the school's inception in 1943, SAIS faculty members have been internationally recognized for their scholarship, experience, and quality of teaching. They are award-winning authors, diplomats, thinkers, and senior-ranking officials who are authorities on international economics and international relations and who have expertise in contemporary issues concerning Africa, Asia, Europe and Eurasia, Latin America, the Middle East, and North America.

SAIS students and alumni are leaders in finance and trade, government and governance, and development and diplomacy. Becoming a part of SAIS means becoming a part of a well-established and vibrant community of more than 17,000 SAIS graduates in more than 140 countries—alumni who are driving positive global change.

MIEF candidates attend the 2014 IMF/World Bank Group meetings.

Master of International Economics and Finance

Over the course of 11 months, this full-time master's program positions students to excel in serious economic and financial analysis positions in a broad range of private- and public-sector capacities. The Master of Arts in International Economics and Finance (MIEF) prepares students to understand advanced economic theories, master professional quantitative and econometric skills, and assess a wide range of international economic and financial scenarios. Studying in Washington, DC, the MIEF cohort can specialize in one of two tracks: Macroeconomics and International Finance or International Trade and Development.

Course topics include

- Advanced Topics in Trade Theory
- Cross Sectional Econometrics
- Financial Derivatives
- Economic Development
- Financial Decision-Making
- Game Theory
- Global Investment Management
- Industrial Organization
- International Money and Banking
- Open Economy Macroeconomics
- Public Finance/Cost-Benefit Analysis
- Time Series Econometrics
- Trade and Development

Capstone Course: Students will study current international economic issues and offer their findings in a detailed presentation to classmates, faculty, and outside professionals. Topics may include current account sustainability, exchange rate exposure, studies on financial markets, and growth and debt sustainability and investments.

Potential Employers of MIEF Grads

Public Policy Sector

- Central Banks
- Finance Ministries
- Multilateral International Financial Institutions
- Trade Ministries

Research

- Further Graduate Study
- Think Tanks

Private Sector

- Banks
- Commercial Investment Banking
- Consulting Firms
- Development Banks

“With its prominent professors from all areas of economics and finance, diverse and friendly students, and access to world-class events, such as the World Bank’s annual meetings, I would recommend SAIS’s MIEF program to anyone interested in developing the skills necessary to succeed in international or multilateral organizations.”

Koshu Kunii
MIEF 2015

Apply Today

Requirements for competitive applicants include

- A bachelor’s degree with a strong foundation in mathematics, quantitative reasoning, and economics from an accredited college or university
 - BA or BS in economics, political economy, the natural sciences, or an equivalent technical area from an accredited college or university and a GPA of 3.0 or higher
 - Successful completion of coursework in basic economics and at least one upper-level economics course
- Academic background in quantitative courses, including coursework in calculus, statistics, and/or econometrics
- A GRE Quantitative Reasoning score of 157 or higher
- Successful completion of the TOEFL for international students

For more information and to apply, visit www.sais-jhu.edu/mief.

The Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies

Nitze Building, 1740 Massachusetts Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20036
202.663.5700

Bologna Center, Via Belmeloro, 11, 40126 Bologna, Italy
39.051.2917.811

Hopkins-Nanjing Center, Nanjing University,
Nanjing Jiangsu Province 210093, People's Republic of China
202.663.5800

www.sais-jhu.edu

facebook.com/SAISHopkins

@SAISHopkins

instagram.com/SAISHopkins